Introduction

The VideoTeach Project

The VideoTeach project aims to develop educators' digital competences and promote video education as the main tool for digital teaching.

In addition, the project sets out to:

- Promote video education in rural areas, by providing rural teachers with competences and tools covering digital and video necessities.
- Promote video education in the green industry, supporting the development of methodologies, tools, and video contents in the specific industries of renewable energy.
- Support rural teachers in the development of their professional career by facilitating the recognition of existing digital learning outcomes, providing structured training and more.

Summary of the deliverable
